Steuben Rural Health Network

Come Celebrate Her Courage and Confidence

At the 5K celebration, we gather as a community to celebrate the courage inside of every GOTR girl. On this day, teams unite to recognize how far our participants have come and how far they will continue to go. The 5K celebration is a day where every person – girls, coaches, caregivers, families, volunteers– are free to be themselves, experience joy and cross the finish line.

2-1-1 Helpline

Welcome Polly McDaniels

Polly previously worked with iCarol, a web-based all-in-one contact management solution for community helplines and crisis lines around the world, as their Director of Business Development. Prior to coming to iCarol, she worked at The Institute for Human Services' 2-1-1 HELPLINE program for nine years in various roles, but most recently as their Operations Manager, overseeing operations of the contact center and the resource department.

Polly has also participated on national task groups, provided training at the national, state, and local levels and served as the Resource Track Manager for the National AIRS I&R Training & Education Conference for three years prior to joining iCarol.

She is currently working back at The Institute for Human Service' 211 HELPLINE program helping them acclimate to their software application, training staff and updating their resource data.

What is a flag stop system?

A flag stop system means a passenger may board a bus at any safe place along a fixed route. When you see the bus you want, signal the driver by waving.

This system is used by all Transit Providers in the Greater Steuben County Area.

Happy National Volunteer Week

April 16-April 22

The Institute for Human Services, Inc. would like to thank all of our amazing and generous volunteers for their time and dedication to our programs.

Our IHS volunteers are the backbone for our Coordinated Transportation Services and for programs that fall under the Steuben Rural Health Network, such as, Girls on the Run of the Southern Tier.

Our volunteers' generosity has had a profound and lasting impact on our community. Words cannot adequately express the gratitude that I, the board, and staff of The Institute for Human Services wish to convey.

"In the Know"

Catholic Charities Steuben/Livingston

April is Alcohol Awareness Month. Alcohol Awareness Month is an annual public initiative organized by the National Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence (NCADD). Since its inception in 1987, this event has cemented itself in the forefront of prevention services, serving as a massively effective platform from which we can try and dissuade misconceptions about alcohol use, as well as provide education on ways to avoid or treat alcohol abuse. In the United States, over 18 million people are afflicted with Alcohol Use Disorder – more than 6% of the population – and over 88,000 Americans die every year due to this disorder.

During this month, we want to educate our community – particularly school-aged children – on what problem drinking is, the effects associated with it, ways to prevent it, and where / how to seek treatment when you realize drinking has become problematic. Our goal this month, as it has always been, is to educate and support, no more no less.

Community Needs Assessment Update(s)

"One-Stop Shop" - - All things data hub

The Institute provides management support, information and referral, organizational development, and research services to planners, funders, and providers serving the Southern Tier of New York State.

IHS' mission is to advance nonprofit and community partners in the region through innovative, collaborative, and responsive solutions to address community needs.

To further carry out IHS' mission, IHS will act as a repository for the region's community needs assessment reports. All information will be stored on IHS' website under the "Community Data" section. By having one central location for all data (hub), this will help organizations streamline collaboration and research.

If your organization has any needs assessment reports that you would like to share, please email provider@ihsnet.org.

Are Nonprofit Workforce Shortages Still a Problem?

Nonprofit workforce shortages have been national news for several years, but is this still a problem impacting your mission? We need your help in answering that question. Take the survey.

A survey of the charitable nonprofit sector in late 2021 documented a severe workforce shortage crisis causing unfilled vacancies, long waiting lists of people seeking services, chronic burnout, and other struggles to meet needs in local communities. The survey results led to action to implement solutions at the community, state, and federal levels.

Now, 18 months later, the state of nonprofit employment is unclear. We hear that problems persist as charitable organizations compete for employees with governments and for-profit entities while also trying to cope with increased demand for services, natural disasters, inflation, and declining revenues. The lack of accurate data makes it hard to manage the situation, much less overcome the growing challenges.

Help tell the charitable nonprofit story today. The results of the survey will drive solutions for this year and beyond.

Thank you,
NYCON Team

STEBEN COUNTY PUBLIC HEALTH SEEKS COMMUNITY INPUT

BATH, NY – The Steuben County Public Health Department is seeking input from Steuben residents and community organizations. Steuben Public Health delayed their strategic planning due to COVID and is now starting the process to better align their goals with what the community and partners would find beneficial.

“The work that we do is intended to better the health of the Steuben County population,” said Public Health Director, Darlene Smith. “When planning, the community’s input can really strengthen what our future looks like and make sure we are serving them the best we can.”

Residents and community organizations are encouraged to provide their feedback. Click here to download Press Release.

Hornell Area Transit

Hornell Area Transit has been receiving positive feedback from their passengers. Hornell Area Transit's priority is to provide safe, clean, and affordable transportation options for those in the Hornell Area.

One popular route is the Hornell to Bath route, which offers a convenient ride for many to connect with services at the County, get to work, connect to another bus system, or visit friends and family in the Bath Area. Hornell Area Transit is excited to share, Steuben County Mobility Manager, Eddie VanStine, uses this service for his daily commute.

Eddie identified he enjoyed the ride, particularly due to their free Wi-Fi service, all for just $4 round trip!
