NYS Master Plan for Aging Survey

Dear Members of the NYS Master Plan for Aging Community,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to you today to emphasize the critical importance of the NYS Master Plan for Aging survey and to request your active involvement in promoting it within your networks.

Since my previous email on September 29th, we have been diligently working to raise awareness about this pivotal survey. However, to ensure its success, we need your support in disseminating information about the survey among your diverse constituencies and underscoring the significance of their participation.

The Master Plan for Aging survey is a vital tool with multifaceted purposes. It will play a crucial role in identifying regional housing challenges, setting priorities for infrastructure and service improvements, understanding how older adults allocate their limited income, and evaluating the impact of various services. Furthermore, it will provide valuable insights into caregiving, the self-perception of caregivers, and the ways in which we can best support them.

For these compelling reasons, we urge you to include a direct link to the survey (<https://forms.ny.gov/s3/mpasurvey>) in your communications to your networks during the next two weeks. If your organization or network partners prefer hard copies for those with limited internet access, we have printable PDF versions available in a total of 17 languages for your convenience. If you require a bulk mailing of paper copies, please contact MPA@health.ny.gov, specifying your preferred language(s).

The deadline for survey participation is December 31st, 2023. We eagerly anticipate sharing the results with you in the coming year. If you have any questions or require further information, please do not hesitate to contact us at MPA@health.ny.gov.

Thank you for your commitment to the NYS Master Plan for Aging. Your collaboration is instrumental in making this initiative a success.

Best Regards,

Adam Herbst
Chair, NYS Master Plan for Aging

Wild Fire Survey

Did you live in the Northeastern U.S. in summer 2023 and experience the wildfire smoke events from Canada? If so, tell us more about your experience!

Our partners within the Department of Public and Ecosystem Health at Cornell University are conducting a study to better understand how individuals in Northeast US responded to the smoke during the summer 2023 wildfire season.

What will you be asked to do? Fill out a 10-minute survey comprised of multiple-choice questions. We will ask you how you typically access information on air quality, if you have experienced periods of poor air quality due to smoke, how smoke affects you, and how your behaviors change during times of heavy smoke. Upon completion, you will have the opportunity to win one of five $50.00 Amazon gift cards. Results from this research will contribute to greater shared knowledge with the goal of advancing efforts related to wildfire smoke mitigation and response in the United States.

Who is eligible? All individuals who are at least 18 years old or older and who spent most of their time in the Northeastern United States (including Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia, or West Virginia) during the summer of 2023 are invited to participate in this survey.

We would greatly appreciate your help in getting a wide variety of responses and encourage you to pass this survey along to anyone else (or any groups) who may be interested. If you have any questions or concerns, please reach out to Erandy Barrera at eib34@cornell.edu.

National Survey of Transportation Providers

NADTC is excited to announce that we have launched a National Survey of Transportation Providers. The survey is intended to assist National Aging and Disability Transportation Center (NADTC) in targeting our information and technical assistance activities to the needs and challenges identified by providers and is directed to three types of providers: 1) Providers of transportation rides; 2) Providers that connect riders to direct transportation rides (e.g., Mobility Managers, Transportation Information and Referral Providers, Travel Trainers); and 3) Organizations that contract with direct transportation providers.

We ask that you also share the survey link with providers in your community, including transportation providers who contract with your agency. If you have any questions, please contact us at info@nadtc.org.

Women in Leadership

11/17 Friday, 10:00 am-11:00 am

Hosted by: Dale Carnegie

Since 2015, the number of women in the C-suite has increased from 17 to 28 percent, and the representation of women at the VP and SVP levels has also improved significantly. These hard-earned gains are encouraging but fragile. McKinsey's 2023 Women in the Workplace report offers even more insight. What we do know is there is much more progress to be made. This workshop focuses on women in leadership, women aspiring for roles in leadership, and for others who want to advocate and enable women's successful leadership journey.
